For 8000 Years

GUARDIANS

Saperavi (sah-pear-ah-vee) REGION: Georgia / Kakheti

Georgia, the country not the state, gave birth to wine over 8,000 years ago and has guarded it ever since. Against all odds, Georgian men and women have made and enjoyed wine every year for the last 8 millennia. Our wine celebrates these guardians of wine, their spirit and the undeniable living tradition they created.

Our grapes are sourced in Kakheti from the indigenous Saperavi varietal. We strive to play our role as ambassadors of Georgian wine in this 8,000 year old chain by providing you the finest quality Saperavi made by a young and upcoming winemaker, Temuri Dakishvili sourced from local farms.

TASTING NOTES

A young juicy style of Saperavi full of life and fruit. Deep red colored with aromas and flavors of fresh red and black fruit and hints of spice. A nice underpinning of acidity followed by lighter and integrated tannins. Great by itself or with food. Pair with friends, burgers and pizza.

POINTS OF DISTINCTION

- Deep Color
- Juicy notes of fresh Cherry, blackberry
- Indigenous Varietal

ABOUT THE LABEL

For 8,000 years women have made wine in Georgia but often behind the scenes. By both honoring the legendary Georgian women on our labels and by donating a percentage of our sales to organizations that support and invest in Georgian women winemakers we are commitment to enable a new generation of women to be the face of Georgian wine.

MAIA “THE ROBBER”

Our Saperavi label honors Maia who is Georgia’s cross between Mulan and Robin Hood. Maia, fled from a corrupt baron to the woods, where she dressed as a man, stole from him and gave to the poor. When foreign invaders came she joined the army where, thanks to her skill, she rose to a leadership position and helped defend Georgia. At the end she revealed her true identity to great amazement.
